Henry J. Greer is Dead.

Henry J. Greer died at his home on West State street Monday evening at about 5 o'clock after an illness of nearly seven years. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure brought on by paralysis and debility resulting therefrom.

Deceased was born in Sparta, Tenn., on July 3, 1828. He came to Illinois early in the fifties and lived at Litchfield several years, afterwards residing in Indiana and Kansas for a time. He came to Lovington with his family twelve years ago and engaged in the wagon-work business until 1892 when he bought the saw-mill then located near the Vandavia depot. He had run the mill but a short time when he lost a leg by falling against a circular saw. Owing to his age his injury never completely healed over and required several amputations. He had been a confirmed invalid since the date of his accident and had suffered two strokes of paralysis prior to the stroke last April from which he never recovered. During the past three months deceased displayed most remarkable vitality. The physicians who attended him and the members of the family had repeatedly thought, from his condition, that he could not live more than a few hours, but each time he rallied seemingly by the exertion of his phenomenal will power.

Besides the wife, six children survive him, all of whom were present at the last excepting one daughter who lives in Kansas. Funeral services were held at the family residence Tuesday evening at 3 o'clock, conducted by Eld. Parker, after which the body was interred in the Lovington cemetery.

The surviving children are Mrs.
Retta Wingate, Della and Charley Greer of this place, Mrs. Anna Gray of Waynesville, Mrs. Nettie Morris of Fullers' Point, and Mrs. Henry Payton of Ray, Kansas.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the people of Lovington for their great kindness and assistance during the illness and death of our husband and father, the late H. J. Greer.
